In the 1970's, scientists cataloged the ocean's plant life and discovered many amazing compounds unique to aquatic life. One of the most beneficial ocean vegetables is red marine algae (RMA), which has caught the attention of the modern scientific community for its immune-supporting properties. Pure Planet's Red Marine Algae Plus is a combination of both gigartina and dumontiaceae, two rare strains found to potently support the immune system. Red Marine Algae Plus is also blended with organic spirulina in a convenient, vegetarian capsule. Many grateful customers report that Red Marine Algae Plus has changed their lives, and have permanently switched over from other alternatives.

SUPPORTS A HEALTHY IMMUNE SYSTEM

Pure Planet’s Red Marine Algae Plus is made from gigartina and dumontiaceae strains that support the immune system.

WHY WE OFFER RED MARINE ALGAE

No other company offers this premium blend and nothing is more effective.

INTERESTING FACTS

The sulfated polysaccharides in RMA are extremely rare and in fact unique to these species. This never before seen fusion of polysaccharides (like those found in aloe vera and noni) and sulfur compounds (like those found in broccoli and garlic) create a super phyco-chemical when combined.

HISTORY

Pharmaceutical companies began to scour the seas for breakthroughs in the 1970s. One of the most promising and effective compounds was found in several rare species of RMA. When the big pharmaceutical companies were unable to synthesize and patent them, they tried instead to buy them.

POTENTIAL BENEFITS

Due to the richness of its polysaccharides and antioxidants, red marine algae can help maintain healthy skin and support immune responses by protecting the body from viruses and bacteria.

HOW IT IS MADE

The algae are grown sustainably on hemp ropes in deep, pure Celtic water and then harvested and dried in a proprietary fashion, preserving the vital sulfated polysaccharides. We blend both gigartina and dumontiaceae into powders and combine them with nutrient dense spirulina (a nutrient-dense type of blue-green algae) to enhance absorption and effectiveness.
